IN FOCUS — How many different aspects can we focus in on at Chartiers Valley? The 25th graduating class has gone, and the 1986 class marks the beginning of a new 25 years in the history of our school. We can 'Focus In' on our new beginning by realizing that the school year does not start in August, but in June for many people.

The marching unit, cheerleaders, and football players began practicing in June but focused in on camps in August. The marching unit traveled to Laurel Springs on August 19th. The purpose of this camp was to learn the year's routines and to get adjusted to the rough schedule each member has to endure throughout the year.

Varsity cheerleaders started practice in early June and continued practicing throughout the year. In August the girls attended camp at Seven Springs Mountain Resort. Cheers were learned and competitions were held. The girls cheered throughout the seasons and helped to unify school spirit.

Once again, the football team spent endless hours practicing at the school. Plays were learned, players were assigned positions and predictions were made. For senior players this was their last taste of summer camp, unless recruited by various colleges. Camps are an aspect of Chartiers Valley that many students are not aware of.

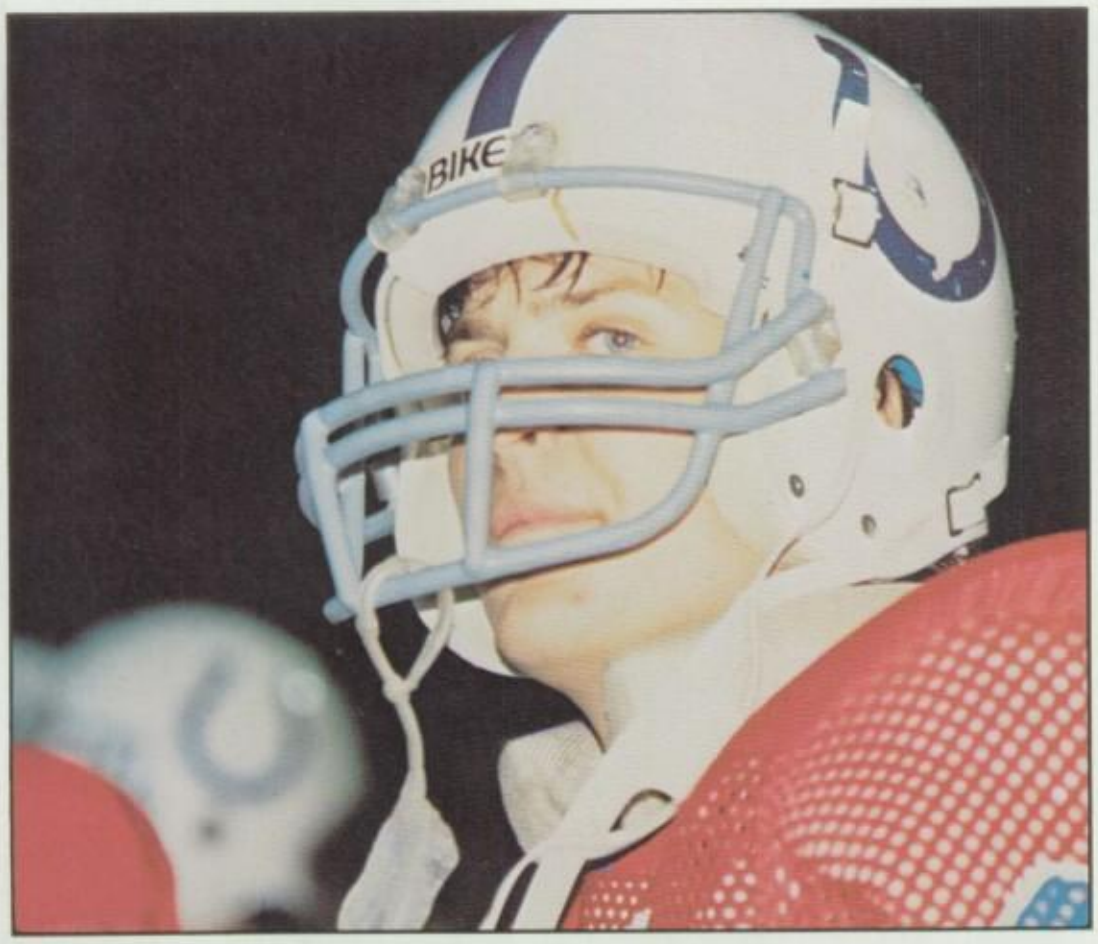
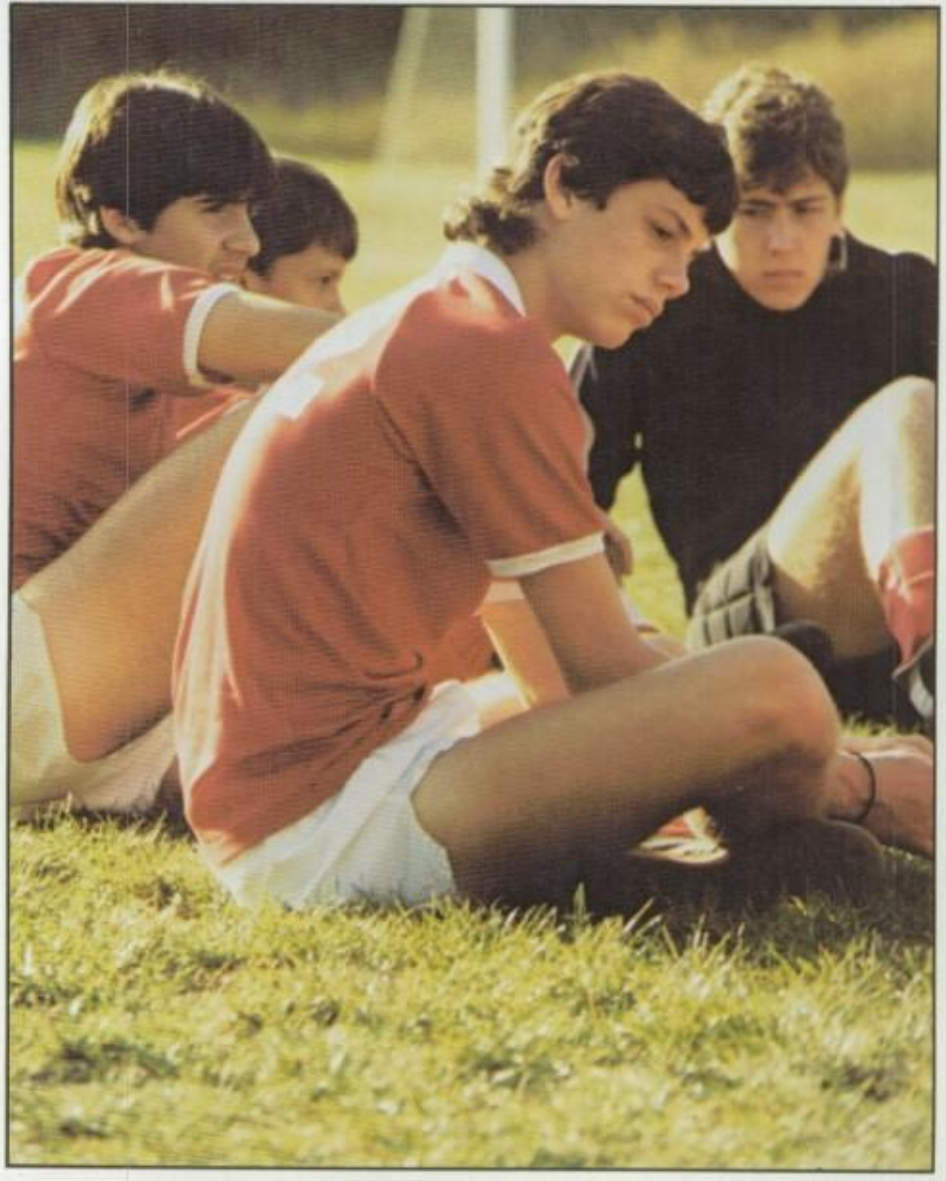
The Class of 1986 showed togetherness through the 'Scavenger Hunt' that started off the summer. The brainstorm of Joanie Fredland and Ashley Sands, over 100 seniors participated on June 13. The night started off well but ended with many people going to sleep angry at one another. However, the Class of '86 displayed its unity by coming together the next morning.

June 14 marked the day Americans focused in on Lebanon as Shite Moselm groups hijacked TWA Flight 847, with 134 terrified people on board. Innovations in modern technology made it possible for all of the world to witness this terrorist attack. Seventeen days later all passengers were set free.

Pittsburgh focused in on a new means of transportation with the completion of the subway. Nicknamed 'T', PAT completed the program and on July 14th, Pittsburghers were treated to complimentary rides. The 'T' has proven to be a huge success as millions of people have taken advantage of using the Underground Trolley System.

People from all over the world focused in on America as patriotism was boosted over the summer. Live-Aid united the whole world as entertainers from all over the world came together and performed on two different stages. The Statue of Liberty received a new appearance as contributions poured in from all over America. Perhaps the greatest figure in patriotsism is Bruce Springsteen, the 'Boss,' "Born in the U.S.A." was youth's answer to "America the Beautiful."





July 13, 1985, was the day that the world focused in on the unity of the entertainment world. Bob Dylan, Mick Jagger, The Who, David Bowie, Tina Turner among others came together as both sides of the Atlantic joined hands in forming Live Aid. Superstars appeared on stage in London's Wembley Stadium and in JFK Stadium in Philadelphia. The purpose of the project was to raise money for the starving people in Africa. Bob Geldof, the creator of Live-Aid, was also the creator for last year's Band-Aid program which raised over 5 million dollars. "We Are the World" has become America's anthem and funds are still pouring in from all over the world. Only the Boss's tour was more popular over the summer. Fashion Levi 501 jeans and a bandana became trademarks of Bruce Springsteen, America's new hero. His scratchy voice and down — to — earth smile rolled into Pittsburgh on August 11. Tickets went on sale July 21 and were sold out in seven hours. Scalping went as high as 200 dollars; but some were fortunate enough to get good seats and enjoy the diverse tunes of Bruce and his E Street Band. Before leaving, Bruce Springsteen contributed 10,000 dollars to a local food bank.

Another patriotic figure was waiting a long needed renovation and was finished in December. The Statue of Liberty received a new makeover thanks to the many contributions from people all over America. Americans were asked to contribute this summer and as always they pulled through.

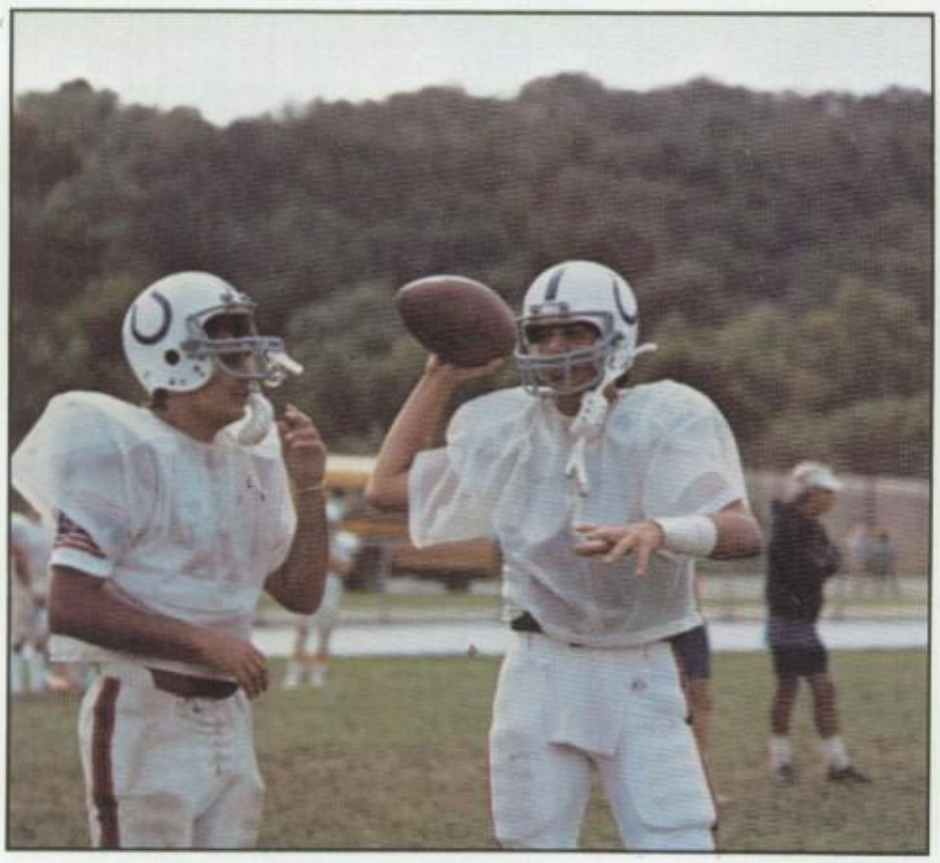
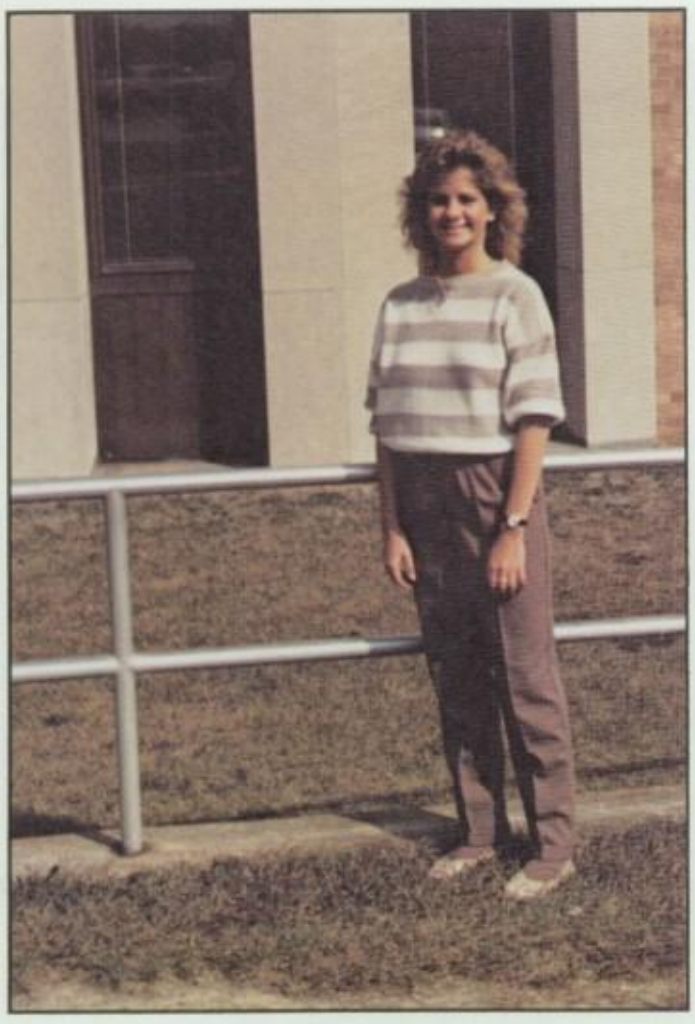
SUPERIOR



EXIT



Seniors, juniors, and sophomores renewed friendships that were lost over the summer and freshmen grew accoustomed to their schedule and their way around the school. Various hangouts were established and everyone knew that school bells were ringing, once again.

The Welcome Back dance was held on September 7th with over 300 people attending. Deejayed by Ira Kaplan and Jon Orenstein, we were able to dance to our favorite tunes once again and, as usual, everyone went to McDonald's after the dance. Still, the effect of school opening was not upon us until Homecoming Week.

HOMECOMING WEEK 1986

Homecoming Week has a twofold purpose: 1) it marks the beginning of a school year and 2) alumni from various graduating classes come home to visit old friends. The week started with voting for class colors and the 1986 Homecoming Court. Royal blue and black won and Beth Apone, Lisa Chobot, Katie Collins, Lisa Grosso, Lisa Mack, Heidi Naleppa, and Sharon Stefanchik were nominated by their peers.

Monday was the traditional college T-shirt day. Tuesday was Twin Day — sets of twins were around the school, and on Wednesday CV resembled Ridgemont High. Hat and Sunglasses Day was the favorite of many students. On Thursday, nerds invaded Chartiers Valley. Friday marked the 1986 graduating class senior day. A sea of royal blue and black washed the pep rally as the court made their way around the gym. Each girl reflected qualities of why she was picked for court as they were escorted by various administrators. This set the intensity for the night's game.

The Colts of Chartiers Valley took on the Spartans of Montour. Halftime came and each girl was escorted on the field with "Thank Heavens For Little Girl's." All of the girls were in their place, and the winner was announced. Sharon Stefanchik was crowned the 1986 Homecoming Queen. The dance was held the next evening in the cafeteria. Now the school year was very much underway.

SNOW COURT 1986

Look out, Girls, here comes C.V.'s hottest guys! This selected group of boys are known as the Snow Court. Equal rights dictate that if the Homecoming Court gets put in the color section, then why not the Snow Court?! In past years the guys have been discriminated against. Sorry about that Guys, but this year the Nexus — In Focus staff has started a new precedent by giving the guys equal coverage in the color section. Matt Dellana, Tim Foley, Chris Provenzano, Eric Vaccerello, and Dan Zelch, all have the qualities of a King, handsome, congenial, and involved in school activities, but only one has the chance to be King. On December 7, 1985 Matt Dellana was crowned King. Congratulations to all members of the 1986 Snow Court.

I, Joe senior, being of sound mind and body, do bequeath the following memories:

To the Freshmen: I remember as a newcomer that warm day of August '82 — everything was so big, so confusing: I was so lost! After a few days, I had memorized most of my class schedule, but I was still disoriented in this new building. I became friendlier with students outside of my class, meeting new people every week. Report cards came — unfortunately! But my grades were none too important, and my parents understood my situation! Summer vacation was just around the corner, and I had made it through my first year of high school!

To the Sophomores: This was a year of aptitude tests: The Differential Aptitude Test (DAT), a measurement of your ability to build model boxes in your head; and the Preparation for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT). Believe me underclassmen, it was much harder than the SAT which came for me in my junior year. This year went the slowest, and I wished that I could just leave school forever.

To the Juniors, Looking back recently, my most prominent memory was wishing to be a senior. Having just previously obtained my long awaited driver's license, I felt like a new person. I no longer needed Mommy or Daddy as my chauffeurs (no offense, folks.) I had started to feel the pressure of the rapidly approaching dreaded SAT's. My future was riding on these scores. Nausea and butterflies arrived in my stomach that Saturday morning. I didn't want to go but I wanted to get it over with. Well, three hours passed and I was relieved of this torture. I was safe for about six weeks until the scores came back.

To the graduating Seniors ('86): I made it! With the help of my friends, family, and, of course, teachers, I had made it through thirteen years of school. They say that time flies when you're having fun. Senior year proves it true. I could now enjoy senior skip day, senior pictures, wearing senior colors (even though they're royal blue and black) and just being a senior! I spent a great deal of my spare time filling out college applications, but I didn't mind because I could feel adulthood and independence approaching rapidly. Because of my innocent act of filling out the little box on my SAT form requesting college information, I was bombarded with mail on a daily basis. I was at the peak of importance in my life!

School went on, the semester changed, and I was unofficially done with school. I had been accepted to the college of my choice in mid-March. I became academically lacadazical, but my grades didn't fall below "C" level. June rolled around, and graduation ceremony practice was over. It was time for the real thing. Char Val's gym was filled with every senior's parents and friends, all screaming when their special grad's name was called. It was my turn — finally. I walked slowly to the platform. I looked to Mr. Buzzatto as he gave me my diploma. I knew that was it. I was one more step towards adulthood.

Final words to my senior class: With enough determination, pride, and effort, you can change black into white.

England Hosts Seniors

As a part of a sister — city exchange program between Pittsburgh and Sheffield, England, seniors Lynne Chadwick and Jeff Wrona spent five weeks last summer in Sheffield. The World Affairs Council of Pittsburgh chose them along with four other students from the Pittsburgh area.

Guidence counselors, Mrs. Brodsky and Mr. Wargo chose Lynne and Jeff for their outstanding academic performances at the high school. Sheffield was the sister — city because it is Pittsburgh's equivalent in land features, life styles and steel production. Room and board were provided by host families.

Lynne Chadwick and Jeff Wrona found their stay in England enjoyable.

During her stay, Lynne toured the famous attractions of England such as the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, and even Harrod's Department Store. Lynne's memorable experiences during her stay in England will last a lifetime.

Jeff's highlights of his trip included seeing Big Ben, riding the subway and train to York and London, viewing the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, and touring the countrysides of London. Jeff described his trip as a great cultural experience.

Both Lynne and Jeff enjoyed their summer in England and felt it was a great learning experience.

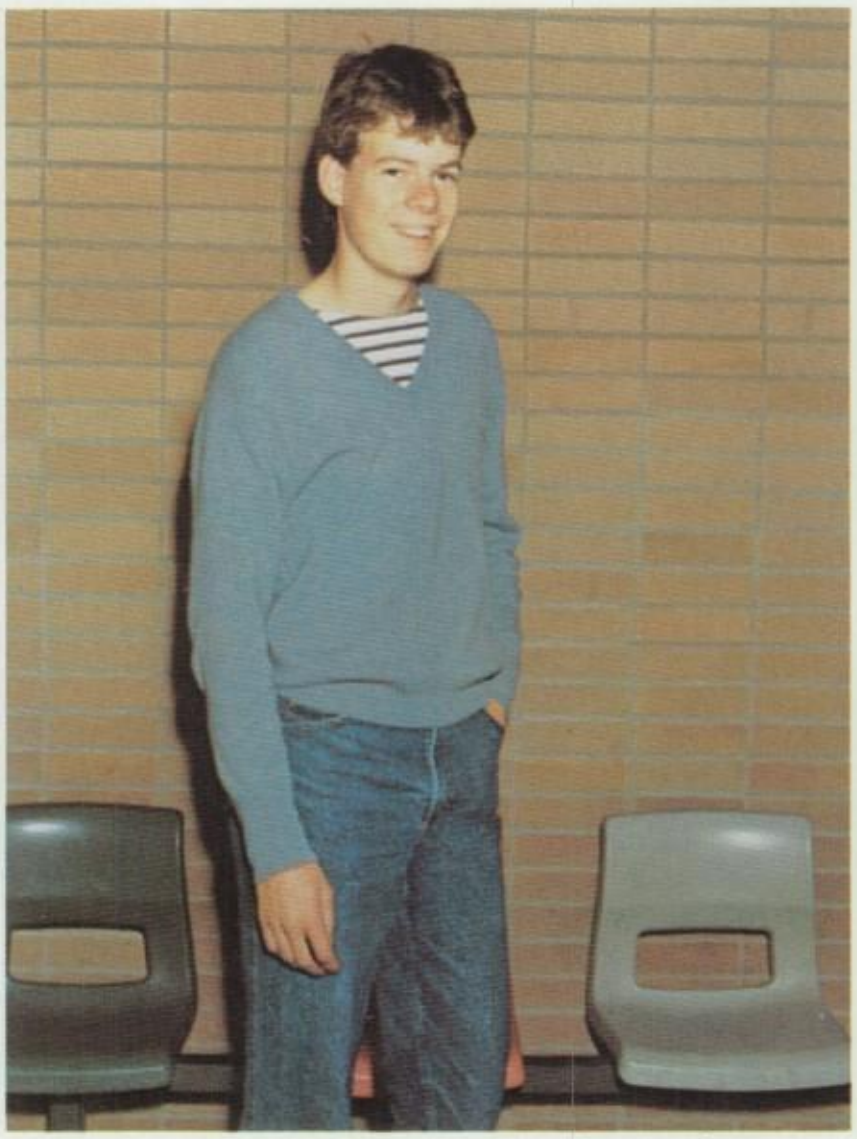
Exchange Student Joins '86 Class

Dan Kömpel, who is from Krefeld, Germany, was chosen to attend C.V. as a senior by the rotary Club. During his one year stay in the U.S. Dan improved his English skills and knowledge of American culture. Keeping busy was no problem for Dan. He attended a Steeler game, an Allegheny Boat Trip, a Laserium Show, and saw many other Pittsburgh sites. When asked what he liked the best about Pittsburgh, Dan replied, "The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Building," and, of course, "The people." Participating in C.V. activities was also no problem for Dan. He played wing for the soccer team and attended many football games which he enjoyed.



Dan Kompel, our German foreign exchange student.

Contrasting life in Germany, the U.S., in Dan's opinion, has too many fast-food restuarants and not enough sit down places with square meals. "We (Germans) don't go out to eat very often, and life is more formal." Also, guys in Germany would never wear their hair long, girls don't carry purses, wear much make-up, or use electric rollers.

"American people are nice but have a strange attitude toward Russians even though they don't know anything about them," replied Dan when asked about American attitudes. "Property lines in Germany are separated by fences," commented Dan on American scenery.

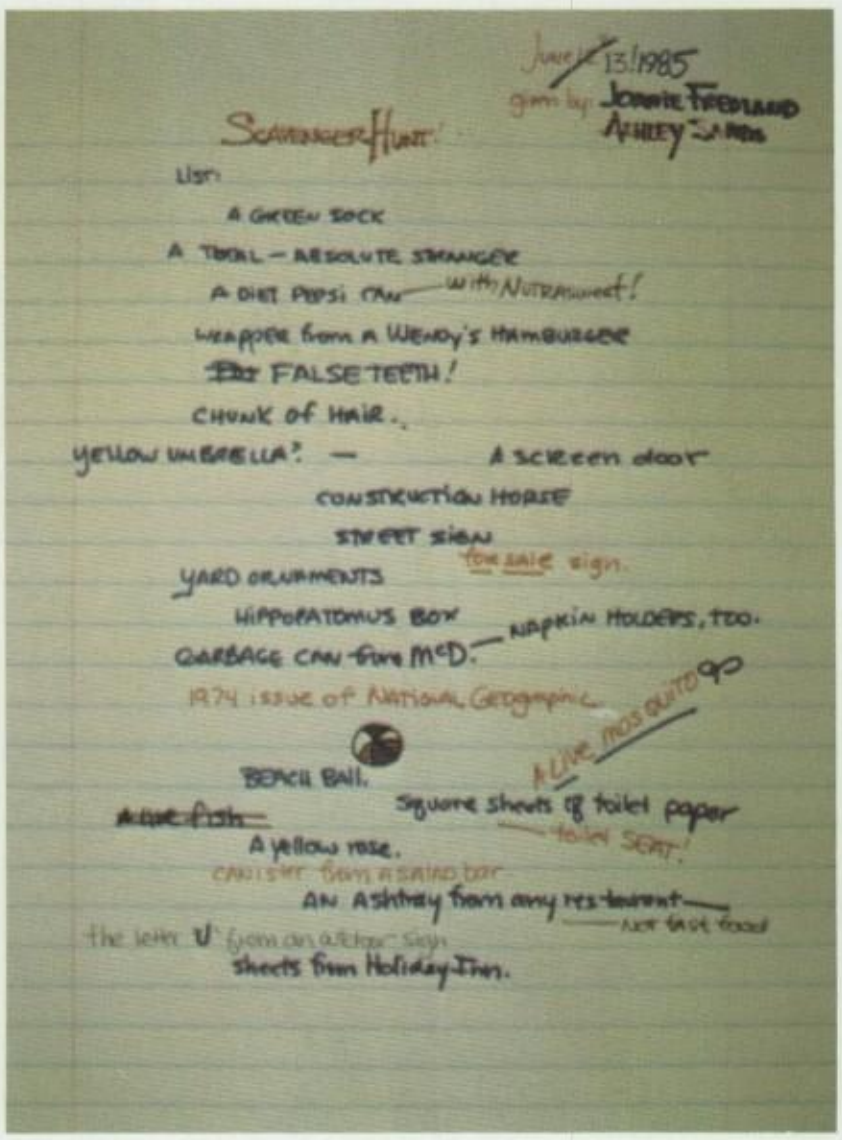
Joanie Fredland and Ashley Sands viewed the '86 class as a family, and by the end of the year they had plans for an unforgettable activity that would honor the 1986 class' harmony:

Topic: Scavenger Hunt Date: June 13th: Time: 7:00 pm. Price: $1.50 per person. On June 13th, teams met at the Bridgeville McDonald's. Each person supplying their $1.50 would receive a "Scavenger Hunt" sheet for his team. On the sheet were 50 items, varying from false teeth — to a total stranger. Each item had a corresponding score according to difficulty. The object of the hunt was: each team was given an allotted time of 3 hours — or until 10:00 pm to search for and acquire as many items as possible. The prize money collected was to be used for a big party.



At 10:00, the contestants were to quit their search and meet at the Foxcroft School to be judged on progress. The teams were relocated to a more remote area: S.R. Duda Middle School. There, tallying was to take place

Contestants were screaming at judges and opponents. Within minutes, the word was out: the police were on their way. Hastily the award was given to the apparent winner.

Although the evening was broken up instantly by the "onslaught" of the police — the 1986 senior class had their "fun", and showed their true unity.

Nexus Editor Wins Title

On the weekend of November 8-10, thirty-six girls from the Pittsburgh area came to the Monroeville Marriot to compete for the title of Miss Metro Pittsburgh National Teenager. The girls were evaluated on their modeling ability, an interview, a talent, their community services and their school grades. The judges chose C.V.'s Wendy Wieland, senior, as the one who best met the qualifications for the pagent.

Along with the traditional roses, tiara, and banner, Wendy was awarded with a one-thousand dollar savings bond, jewelry, perfume, a wardrobe from New York City, and a full sponsorship to the state pagent.

As her talent, Wendy used sign language to illustrate the song "We are the World". Wendy's community services include the Red Beret Mission Corps and services affiliated with her church. She is also the president of the CV pep club and sports editor of Nexus.

When asked to comment about the pageant, Wendy stated that "The weekend was a lot of fun not only because of receiving the title but because I met a lot of special friends and learned a lot." In the upcoming year, she will go to Harrisburgh to compete with girls from all over the state for the title of Miss Pennsylvania National Teenager.

Wendy Wieland's excitement can't help but show in winning Miss Metro Pgh.

It was a cold day in February, and I found myself roaming the halls of the high school. I was on assignment, hired by the Nexus Staff, to interrogate underclassmen. My purpose was to find out what was on their minds. I set my sights for a freshman. I found the little fellow walking by himself through the shadows of L Building. I decided to use intimidation. I nonchalantly slipped up behind him and said, "Psst," casually. Like any freshman he was intimidated immediately and replied, "Who me?" That's when I pinned him against the lockers and said, "Who do you think you are roaming these halls without a pass?" He said, "Phil Cerminara." "Do you think little guys like you are special or something?" I said in his face. He replied, "High School is a new experience for me," in timid voice. I let him down and straightened my trench coat and hat. I turned around only to see Phil's buddy, Brad Walker, who mumbled, "It's better than the Middle School." I looked at them square in the eye and said, "Beat it." They ran off into the shadows. Well, so much for the freshmen.

I lit a cigarette, let out a sigh and started to track down a sophomore. I saw Nick Duratz, the kind of guy who makes your teeth rattle. He was sitting on the steps pretending to be studying. He didn't fool me. I walked up to him and asked him what he was doing. He said he was studying and that if I didn't stop bothering him, he was going to knock my rattling teeth to the other side of the ramps. I said, "Nick, I'm not stupid, not a single student in this school studies." He replied, "Sophomores are a new breed." I tipped my hat and then sauntered off.

I thought I might get a little more information out of a junior so I looked for one. I knew just where to find one, second floor ramps. Yes, it's an ugly place but I needed the information. When I got there I saw two blonde dames leaning up against the railing. I didn't waste any time. I strolled up to them and said, "Got a light?" One pulled a lighter from a pocket on her skimpy red dress. She said, "Many different kinds of people are here, going from one extreme to another," hinting that I was the other extreme. She told me her name was Shannon McQuire and asked me what I was doing in such a nasty place. I asked her friend Kim Johnson the same question. She mumbled something about having a rough life and then said, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going." Well, it was time for me to get going, so I winked at the women and took off for the main office. As I approached the office, I overheard Mr. Buzzato and Dave Schneider discussing the future whereabouts of his illegal instrument. "Really, Mr. Buzzatto, this isn't a radio, it's my uh . . . pacemaker!" I slipped past Dave and found Mr. Buzzatto waiting for me with an anxious look in his eyes. He asked me if I got the information. I told him, "Listen Big Guy, J.D. Law, P.I., always gets what he's after!" I gave him the information, lifted the collar of my trench coat and took off into the cold February air.

Faculty

Elijah is a retired teacher from CV High. He lives high upon Mt. Rushmore. Life has been cruel to Eli. After many years of torture by students, Elijah has retired to the mountain to find tranquility. Until one day . . . A naive, young prospective teacher stumbled up the mountain in that hot desert sun dressed in formal business attire:

Once she was on my level, she stood up and dusted the dirt off of her skirt and proceeded to curse the sharp rock that snagged her nylons. She giggled as I combed the Grapenuts out of my full white beard. She said, "Pardon me, are you he whom they call Elijah?" "Elijah's my name, telling tales is my game. I suppose you have searched high and low looking for me to ask the meaning of life." She replied, "No, actually I need some advice on how to be a good teacher." After regaining my composure I dusted the rock next to mine and asked her to have a seat. "Listen, Dearie, let me tell you about a few experiences of mine before you do anything hasty."

My first tale goes like this . . . I was on lunch duty. It started out as a normal lunch period until a ruckus broke out in the cafeteria. I was reluctant to investigate, but duty called. As I approached the center of attention, I was abruptly halted by swarms of creamed corn and globs of flying mashed potatoes. A food fight of the worst and most dangerous kind had broken out during my lunch duty. By the time it was over, my hair was dripping with soggy vegetables, my suit was plastered with tapioca pudding, and my shoes were full of jello.

Another incident that comes to mind occurred after I thought I had reached a peak in my career. I had a student, best in my class, who had sustained a 2% grade average. He felt that he should receive a grade higher than an "F" minus. I laughed in his face. Two weeks later I received a letter from a Congressman requesting the student's grade be raised. Astonished and bewildered I felt obliged to give the poor chap a "C". For the next month I received similar requests from the President, the Indian Ambassador, Santa Claus, and Gumby. My life was a living hell.

"Stop! Please," screamed my guest. "No more!" Just one more tale my dear, and I'll let you go.

When I finally thought that I had everything together, fate slapped my face. My class was getting bored with the same chemistry experiments. I had heard that one teacher once had his class make chocolate brownines totally from chemicals. Although they were an off-beige color, they were pretty darn good. So I talked over with my class, and they said that it sounded good. I could not find a recipe for brownies, so I settled for peanut brittle. Halfway through the lab the recipe called for oleic acid (butter), but some joker slipped some butyric acid in instead. For the next three days the school smelled like rotten eggs. I was a wanted man.

"Ahh! Stop! No more! I can't take it!" She interrupted. I think she got my point as she leaped from Mt. Rushmore. "I guess," I mumbled to myself, "Teachers die many times before their deaths; the common man tastes death but once."

Teachers: In Focus — T.C. Bechtold

Advice to the Class of '86. Move South.

Anything bizarre that ever happened to you as a teacher? One time while teaching I felt a draft on my lower extremities. I looked down and to my chagrin I neglected to wear shoes that day. Nobody in the class noticed because they were all from Presto.

Biggest reward as a teacher? Winning the coveted "C.V. Award." It was a miniature scorecard that kept saying, "Good Morning — Drive Carefully — Have a Nice Day 7:10 A.M. 42°."

Biggest disappointment as a teacher? Not being appointed superintendent of C.V.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? I'd make our weather a three phase system. No winter.

Something people would be surprised to know about you? I play accordian for "Humpty Kowalski" and the Pennsylvania Coal Miners.

How do students of today compare to those of your day? I think kids in my day were much dumber. We had a kid in class who was so dumb that he thought a "Bigamist" was an Italian Fog.

Anything you'd rather be doing? I'd much rather be down in Nags Head N.C. just kind of doing whatever.

Teachers: In Focus — John D'Angelo

Advice to Class of '86: Learn to be as independent as possible. The more you can rely on yourself; the less you will be disappointed in life.

Anything bizzare ever happen to you as a teacher? A student managed to get his arm stuck in the railing in one of the hallways and was so embarrassed that he stood there for about half an hour without telling anyone. I was going to take him to the office for cutting class when he told me what was wrong. We had to get the janitors to remove the railing.

Biggest reward as a teacher: The only real reward a person can get out of teaching is the satisfaction of serving a number of years with most of his or her sanity intact.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: The realization that school districts are so politicized that the biggest people are rarely given positions of authority. As a result, the mediocrity of leadership prevents innovation and progress.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? 1) advertisements that portray smoking and drinking as pleasurable activities. 2) movies which glorify the antics of immature teenagers. 3) movies which portray authority figures (parents, teachers, policemen, etc.) as incompetent fools.

Something people would be surprised to know about you? Have published poetry and reviews in national magazines.

How do students of today compare to those in your days? Students today are basically the same except that today's student has so much more in material possessions and also in opportunities for the future.

Anything you'd rather be doing? Most days I enjoy teaching, but every so often I imagine myself lying on the white sand of a sunny beach watching all the pretty girls walk by.

Advice to the class of '86. Work hard you can only get out of life what you put into it.

Anything bizzare that ever happened to you as a teacher? Had a principle tell me never to get within 36 inches of the students or more than an arms length away from the intercom 1 phave.

Biggest reward as a teacher: Having a former student come back and say thanks.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: The verbal abuse and attacks to physical proberty.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? Remove the possibility of nuclear weapons and therefor of nuclear war.

Teachers in Focus — Richard Monning

Advice to the Class of '86: Choose a job or a profession that you will enjoy doing. Don't do something because of the money

Anything bizarre ever happen to you as a teacher? Not really!

Biggest reward as a teacher: Learning that former students have become successful with their lives and careers.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: Signing dropout forms for students who are leaving school before graduation.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? Eliminate nuclear weapons.

Something people would be to know about you: I have loved rock and roll since the mid 50's and still love it.

How do students of today compare to those in your day? Students today lack imagination due to too much pre packaged entertainment, television.
Anything you would rather be doing? I would love to be able to travel.

Advice to the class of '86: Travel — See exotic places. It's the best education.

Anything bizarre that ever happened to you as a teacher? One of my hamsters got loose and scared a lady teacher into the bathroom.

Biggest reward as a teacher: Getting cards and letters from past students.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: Students who can't be motivated to exell — be the best.

Something people would be surprised to know about you: I've been to Hawaii seven times and flown the Concorde to London.

How do students of today compare to those in your days? Today's student is more sophisticated, has street savvy.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? Terrorism and senseless slaughter of animals.

Anything you would rather be doing? I'd like to be wearing a mumu sitting on the beach in Waikiki stringing puka beads.

TEACHERS: IN FOCUS — ROBERT RODRIGUES

Advice to Class of '86: Take advantage of any opportunities that cross your path.

Biggest reward as a teacher: For a student to return after a few years of post-high school and acknowledge your role in their life.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: Students not appreciating and making full use of the big opportunities that they have each day.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? I would like to change the Vietnam War involvement of the U.S. Because that is when the trust in the government by Americans began to erase — and for good reason.

How do students of today compare to those in your day? Students are basically the same only the environment and means of expression have changed.

Anything you would rather be doing? I sincerely enjoy teaching, but I probably would like to be a lawyer.

Advice to the class of '86 — "Get involved in making our world a better place."

Biggest reward as a teacher: When a student from years remembers me with warmth and respect.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: That our young people don't exhibit more enthusiasm toward their education.

What would you change in the world if you had the power? The highly nationlistic thinking of nations which is the root of world tension.

How do students of today compare to those in your days? Freer, less responsible, overly concerned with material things.

Anything you would rather be doing? Retired, which I hope to be in June.

Advice to the class of '86: Be consistent, self-accepting, and wary of people who give advice.

Anything bizarre that ever happened to you as a teacher: I once stopped a girl in the hall and scolded her for not returning her tray in the cafeteria. She denied the accusation. I persisted. She got radical, so I sent her to the office. Later I found out that she has an identical twin who had left the tray.

Biggest reward as a teacher: Occasionally seeing students turned on to learning.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: Tunnel vision. More and more students focus on a career and tune out what they consider to be peripheral subject areas. Result — lopsided people.

What would you change in the world if you had the power: Man's propensity to wage war.

Something people would be surprised to know about you: I'm not a male chauvanist; I judge broads by their intelligence.

How do students of today compare to those in your day? Outwardly more sophisticated but basically the same. Human nature is human nature.

Anything you would rather be doing: Celebrating a record-breaking lotto win with Sophia Loren.

Advice to the class of '86. Be all that you can be!!

Anything bizarre that ever happened to you as a teacher: I was a new teacher in January 1966. The eighty plus member studyhall pulled an air-raid my first day. Each one went under a desk as they shouted air-raid.

Biggest reward as a teacher: Several students have gone on to major in French and the theater.

Biggest disappointment as a teacher: Dr. Boggio wouldn't allow me to run for regional Trustee for the International Thespian Society even though I was sure to win the election.

What would you change in the world if you had the power: Small minded people.

Something people would be surprised to know about you: I'm really a quiet, private individual. How do students of today compare to those in your day? We did the homework required. Oh we @#!%& too, but at least we did the work.

Anything you would rather be doing? I often wonder what it would be like if I had made the career choice of medical technician.

Administration

At the end of the school year the school district lost 102 years of experience. The three vice-principals retired. Mr. John Duchess with 34 years, Mr. Nicholas Novelli with 37 years, and Raymond Pulaski 31 years have bid farewell to Chartiers Valley. "A great 31 years in the district," said Mr. Pulaski looking back on his time here. Mr. Duchess agreed with Mr. Pulaski and said he enjoyed his 34 years very much. I was very glad I chose the profession; I had very good experiences during my 37 years," commented Mr. Novelli.

What are they going to do now that they have retired? They have all agreed to some golfing and traveling. Mr. Novelli said Florida was in his plans and Mr. Duchess was thinking of Myrtle Beach. While Mr. Pulaski said he would like to see more of the U.S. in general.

"What will you miss most and least when you retire?" The principals were asked. They all agreed that having to suspend students and to deal with discipline problems was the thing they would miss the least. On the most side Mr. Duchess said he misses the students of CV, the administration and faculty, support people and his involvement in athletics. Mr. Novelli said he misses the kids which he said kept him young. He also misses his comrades, the secretaries, and all the people of the district. Mr. Pulaski said he misses his associates and the personal contact with students the most.

In leaving they all gave their advice to students today. "Have fun while in school and make use of your talents." (Mr. Novelli) "Be realistic and pursue endeavors with all your might." (Mr. Pulaski) "Live up to your levels of ability and be assured of success." (Mr. Duchess)

The impact of these three men on the district has been great. Their absence will be felt greatly next year. Their service to the district and dedication to their jobs will be greatly missed.

Dear Mr. Buzzatto,

We know that you gave us the chance to make our club the best in the school. We tried to hold different social events, but attendance was low. We tried to have fund raisers, but nobody told us that chocolate-covered rat's feet started to smell after a few days. We're truly sorry about the asphyxiation of two of the kitchen staff. Brian just figured that you wouldn't mind if we discarded all of the wasted "goodies" in the cafeteria trash cans.

We did have a successful banquet for our mid-year Awards and Recognition Night. It was a mixture of a talent show with a touch of drama. I felt that speeches would be too boring, so I devised a plan of events for an evening in the next century. Things went great. Well, until our servants came with the food. Steve programmed robots to cook, dish-out, and serve the meats. He totally forgot that electricity and water (namely soup) don't mix too well. I handled the situation with a nearby fire extinguisher. My white-chocolate Mousse was a hit! Our guests were ranting and raving about it and were asking for the recipe. I told them it was a family secret and told Joe to get more servings. He came back with a disgusted look on his face and said that there was no more. The fire extinguisher was empty.

But beside those mistakes (some fatal), we discovered something new. We learned about the people we were. Unlike the other clubs, we take in anybody who is interested. We're not all jocks, brains, preppies or weirdos. We don't gather at any particular time or have any special purpose or interest, but we have managed to develop a close relationship between a wide variety of people without seriously injuring anyone, and I think that counts for something. Together we have helped to conquer many obstacles in each others lives. Such as the fact that Brian has been separated from his security blanket for three straight weeks; Bridgette has cut down to using only 1 pound of make-up per day; Steve has trimmed his studying time down to only 12 hours a day instead of 23½, and he has even taken down 5 of his 15 Albert Einstein pictures on his wall. Did you know that Steve has smoked nothing but ciagarettes for the past week? Tim can now talk about three other subjects besides football. Yes, I think our club does have a purpose. Even I myself have improved from being in this club. For instance, I have cut down to watching only 9 hours of T.V. a day and have even given up watching Mr. Rodgers, even though he still wants to be my friend.

Well, I guess what we're trying to say is that we don't think that we should lose our club because of our actions. We want you to realize that we'll be who we want to be. Just a bunch of love-crazed, fun-loving, out of hand kids. That's all.

Signed,

The Lunch Club

CHEERLEADERS

The 1986 Varsity Cheerleaders, consisting of 14 girls, helped to support school activities and promote school spirit. To earn money, they sponsored the Sadies Hawkins Dance and sold candy. They use this money to buy tennis shoes and raise money for summer camp. Led by Lisa Grosso, the squad placed third and fourth, respectively, in the Collegiate Cheerleading Camps and Western PA Cheerleading Competition. Each girl received a superior ribbon award for achievement at summer camp.

DRILL TEAM

The Char-Valettes, one third of the Marching Unit, add dance and style to half time performances and band festivals. Requirements for a member are dance ability, personality, and overall appearance. Practices started in June and lasted until April when the Marching Unit traveled to California to participate in various competitions. Captain Amy Ciminel commented on this year's squad, "All our hard work has paid off and it was evident throughout the season."

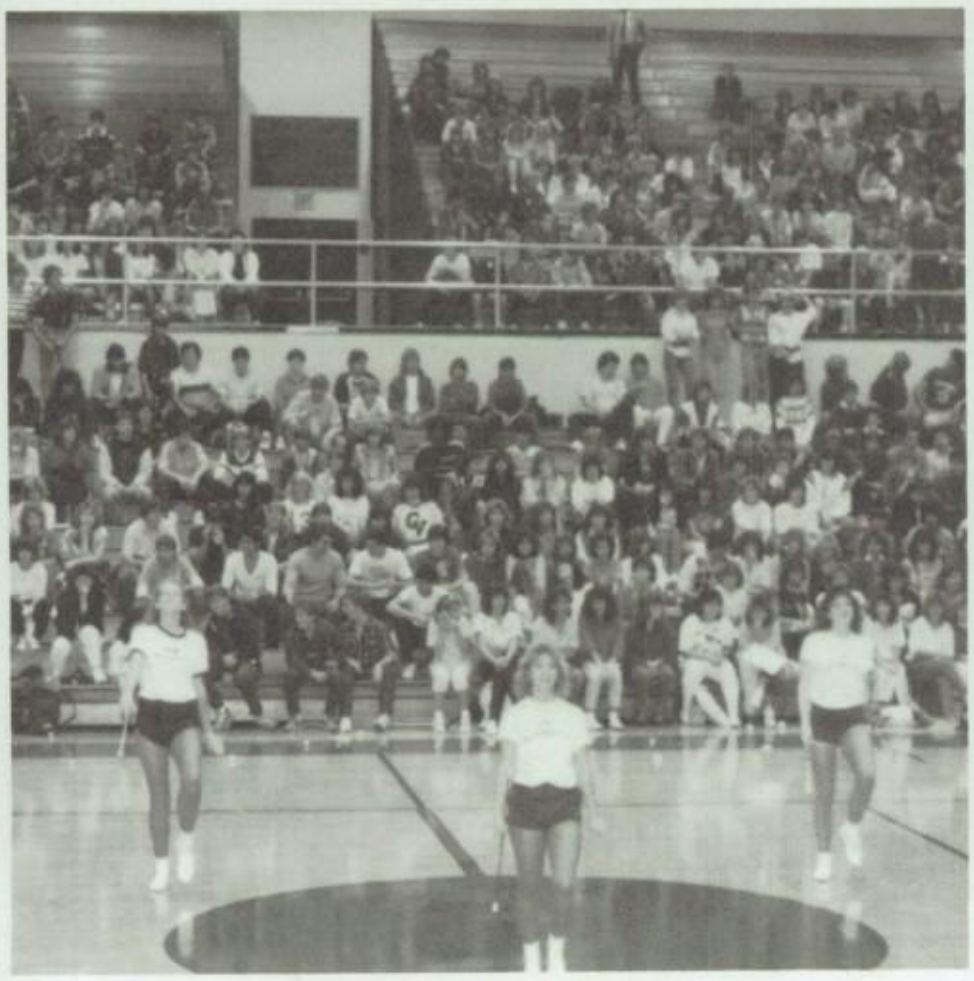
MAJORETTES

The Majorettes were made up of 5 seniors, 4 juniors and 2 sophomores. Captained by Tammy Turney and Melissa Ross, the squad accompanied the Band and Drill Team at all football games and band festivals. A majorette has to be skilled in dancing along with twirling a baton and be composed in front of a large crowd. Long practices were held to perfect all these traits. The Majorettes accompanied the Marching Unit to California in April.



MARCHING BAND

The Marching Unit would not be complete without the Marching Band. Under Mr. Keil's direction, the band provided the drill team and majorettes with music for half-time productions and pep rallies. The musicians ended their summer practices with a week at Seven Springs for band camp. Senior Sharon Anesetti said, "I'll miss band camp the most." Throughout the school year, the band practiced during the fifth period. They sold hoagies and candy to raise money for this year's trip to California.

DANCE TROUPE

The Chartiers Valley Dance Troupe consisted of twenty girls who danced their way into various C.V. productions. The troupe portrayed "Funky Monkies" and were the "Tornado" in the spring production of "The Wiz". Members met fifth period to choreograph and practice for their May 9th Dance Show. Under the direction of Mrs. Renee Keil, the Dance Troupe has developed fully and will always be something special for dance enthusiasts.

SUB TROUPE

Sub Troupe, a stepping stone to the Dance Troupe, enabled more girls to be included in the dance program. Started last year by Mrs. Keil, the Sub Troupe gives underclassmen the opportunity to gain skills and composure for Dance Troupe, Drill Team, and the Majorettes. STAGE/CONCERT BAND

The Concert and Stage bands are made up of those students who participate in the Marching Band. The Concert Band practiced during fifth period to rehearse for their spring production.

Stage Band practiced after school for their part in the spring production of the "Wiz." Both bands are conducted by Mr. Keil with help from Mr. Choura and Mr. Martucci.

ORCHESTRA

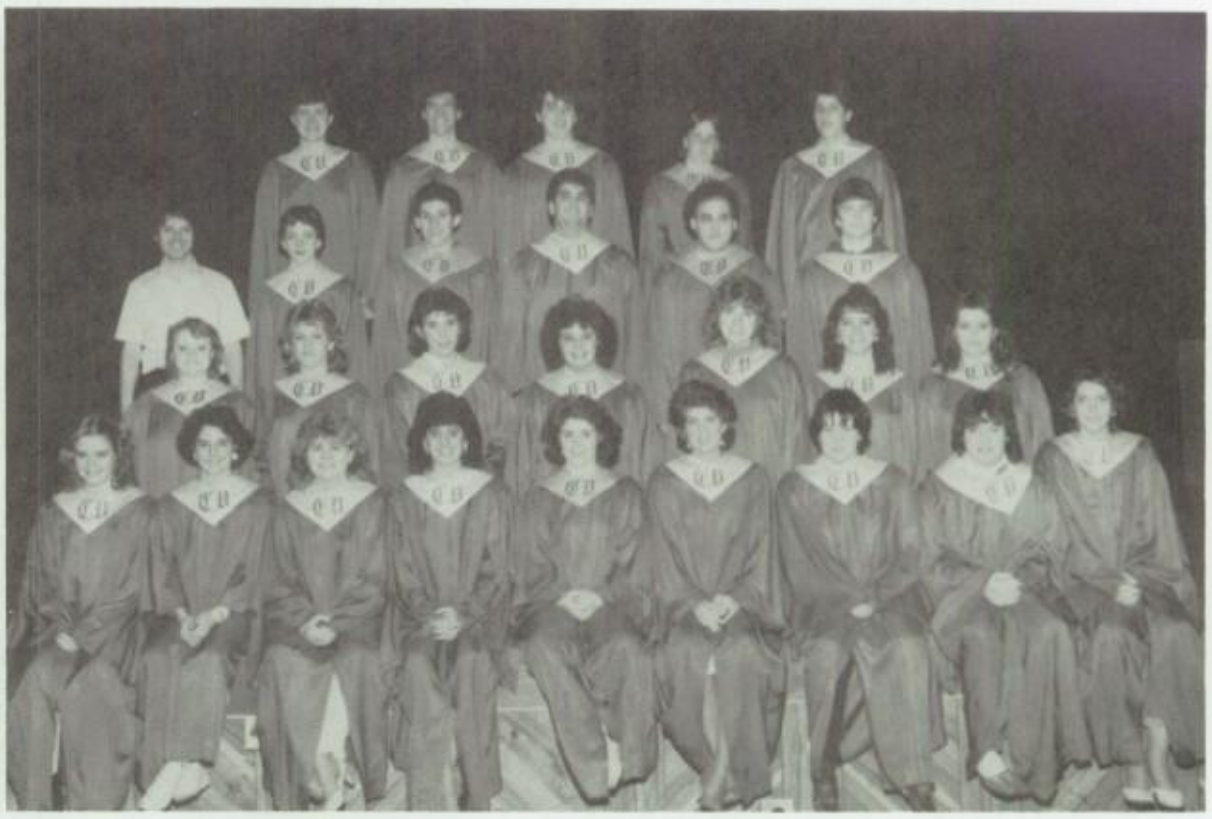
DRAMA

This year's Drama and Thespian Clubs were very active in many different plays and productions of C.V. "Tom Sawyer," directed by Mr. Larry Wineland, was held in the fall and the spring production, 'The Wiz,' was directed and choreographed by Mrs. Renee Keil. Acting and dancing classes performed on May 9th and displayed their talents to students and parents alike. Members of Drama Club can become Thespians by earning points through onstage performances.



CHORUS

The Concert Choir and Chorus are two clubs designed to help students in voice technique and basic singing ability. The Choir performs at a Christmas and Spring Concert and various community sponsored activities. Chorus is a club that teaches students to appreciate the beauty of harmony. Both clubs are under the direction of Mr. Richard Choura.

JV CHEER LEADERS

The Freshman Cheerleaders help to promote school spirit at all freshman activities. Chosen by judges in the late spring, members practice all summer, so they are able to cheer at freshman football games in the fall. Some members go on to varsity cheerleading and help to promote the school for four years. Ellen Spoharski was this year's coach. The girls attended the annual Football Banquet in the fall.

PEP CLUB

Formerly SPAZ, the CV Pep Club, under the direction of Mrs. Pat Battaglia, has expanded to over 50 members who met at all football games to help aid the cheerleaders in promoting school spirit. All members had the opportunity to purchase T-Shirts which were worn at all Pep Club gatherings. Senior member Jodi Previtt commented on the club, "Being on the Pep Club is a good way to release energy and be obnoxious at the same time."

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, supervised by Mr. Monning, was active in many different aspects of Chartiers Valley. Powder puff football and the Nexus slide show were brought back this year. NASA Astronaut Irwin and the Penn State Concert Choir were some of the major assemblies that were held during the school year. The Student Council sponsored the Welcome Back Dance and the Prom this year.

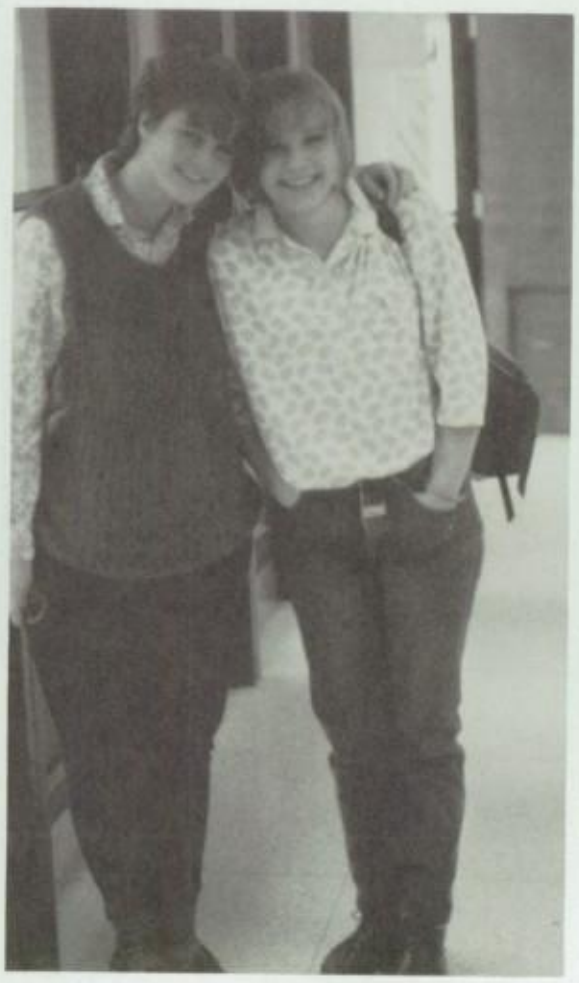
CLASS OFFICERS

Class Officers are elected to represent their respective class in all matters. Officers are elected in their freshman year and remain there for four years. Officers help to arrange the annual Children's Hospital Drive, make decisions on graduation announcements, and help to pick a theme for the prom. Sponsored by Mr. Monning, the class officers have become the middle-men between the administration and the students.



VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club has over 100 members who are active in all varsity sports. Members work at football games, basketball games and wrestling matches to earn points to get back money from their jackets. This year's club was actively involved in another food drive which provided canned goods for the school district's unemployed. Senior Pam Klim commented, "I enjoyed working and was glad I earned the money back."

SKI CLUB

The Ski Club, the largest club at Chartiers Valley, consisted of over 150 members who took trips to Seven Springs and Vermont throughout the winter. Members earned money by selling candy to other students. Interested members who want to, can learn how to ski and improve their sking ability. This year's juniors prepared for a trip to Vale, Colorado, next year.

YEARBOOK

The twenty-one members of the Nexus staff worked hard to make, complete, and sell this yearbook. Members had to compile pictures, write copy, and collect memories of the school year. New positions were given this year, in the staff because of the greatly detailed parts of this yearbook. Such positions were Editor-In-Chief and Assistant Editors, Layout Editor and Copy Editors. The group meets in L212 and is supervised by Mr. Robert Szyper.

CHAR VALIANT

The Journalism Staff worked this year to cover the activities and individuals of C.V. to its students. The Char-Valiant, which could be purchased once a month, was highly regarded among the students here. This reputation must be kept up by the 27 staff members who worked each day during 5th period. The staff met all printing deadlines so the paper was distributed to the students on time. They sponsored two dances this school year to raise money for printing costs.

TEEN INSTITUTE

Teen Institute consisted of 33 devoted members who tried to help their peers with personal problems such as drugs, alcohol or family problems. Members met at designated times during the week and sometimes after school. In the Winter of 1985, selected members attended a seminar at Linden Hall to train them in counseling troubled students.

Student United Nations is a club that allows interested students to become involved in the rules and regulations of other governments. Guest speakers give the students details of what is going on in other countries and what might happen in America if we do not improve diplomatic relations. The organization is sponsored by Mr. Karpinski.

INTERACT

The Interact Club, under the direction of Mr. John Morgan and sponsored by the Bridgeville Rotary Club, is in its third year at Chartiers Valley. The group meets before school on specific days and helps to collect money for the charity of its choice. Fundraisers included candy, bakesales and carwashes. Interact members also were involved in the Bridgeville Rotary Race.

C.V. DRUMMERS

This year's band has an elite group of people who provide a funky beat for their music. Led by Mark Petrocelli, the 8 boys and 1 girl play 4 different kinds of drums. Senior members are Darryn Cleary, Tim Komen, Jeff Misitis, and Mark Petrocelli; Sophomore members are Dave Hutchinson, Steve Magliocca, and Mark Stasiowski; and Freshman members are Joe Tokar and Melissa Waldman. In California, the judges said that the drummers played too loud. Their quote to that was, "If it's too loud, you're too old."

Welcome to WCVE sports fans! Here we are recapping the various sports events of the year. You'll be spending the rest of the day with me, Goward Hosell. Now just sit back and relax. Well we'll start off with everyone's favorite sport — football!

There is excitement in the air this Friday evening as the Char Val Colts attempt to snatch a victory from the Harrisburg Cow-Pokes for the State Championship title. With under two minutes remaining, no time outs for either team Char Val is trailing by five points. QB Tony Alucci gets the call from coach Dave Stewart on 4th and long from their own 12 yard line. He fades back; the blitz is on; the crowd goes wild as Tony releases the ball for a long bomb to receiver Steve Franklin crossing the midfield mark. The ball is up . . .

We interrupt this program for a special sports bulletin! In soccer, the Colts have just tied the St. Francis Moondogs with a spectacular goal by senior Stayton Green in the state finals. With less than 10 seconds in the game, Aaron Shipley gets the pass from Dan and sets up Eric Makar in front of the goal. The goalie stretches for the ball and . . .

Excuse me folks; this is Coward Hosell again. Station WCVE is terribly sorry about the technical difficulties.

Okay, let's go on to a four part winter sports series: swimming, volleyball, basketball, and hockey. The last I heard the swim team was leading in the last leg of the relay in the state finals. In the meantime, CV's boys basketball team challenged the Harlem Globetrotters in a network match-up while the Lady Colts Hoopers wait for their chance to meet the Trotters. The US Olympic volleyball team invited the Char Val girls to a pre-1988 Olympic exhibition. For an extra special hockey report, here's Cyron Mope on sports. I'm here at Mount Lebonan's Ice Rink for the AA-State Championship game. The excitement is building as the C.V. Icers attempt to slaughter the Archbishop Wood Vikings. The puck is dropped for the faceoff and . . . Here's the overall view of the game. The Colt's Tim Tracy, coming back from a recent injury, along with the help of Brad Holland and Ric Niedt finished off the Vikings for the 1986 State Championship. Tracy received the MVP award with 5 outstanding goals. Final score: Char Val Colts 7 — Bishop Wood Vikings 2, giving coaches Joe Funtal and Ed Shultz their first ever State Title. This is Cyron Mope on sports.

Finishing off our sports special we will recap baseball, softball, tennis and track. The track team sent some outstanding runners to the Baldwin Invitational. The C.V. tennis team defeated numerous opponents to qualify for the WPIAL playoffs. In final, the C.V. softball team battled with the Siberian Lady Hawks for the World Championship title. Suzy Voss hit three grand slammers to give the Colts a one run advantage in the top of the seventh. In the meantime, the Colt baseball team appears to be in tip-top condition as seniors Jon Hurey, Mark Tinney and Gary Ritson led the team to a victory over the Chinese All-Stars.

Well folks, we've come to the end of our exciting sports special.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

It was another good year for Colt football. This year the varsity team finished 6th in their conference with four wins and five losses. The captains were Eric Vaccarello and Jim Savage; and Head Coach was Mr. Dave Stewart. C.V. had many outstanding players and many made the all-conference team: Steve Franklin, Tony Aliucci, Eric Vaccarello, and Jim Savage, with honorable mention going to Mark Tinney, Mike Walsh, Will Minnie and Matt Dellana.

≫ J.V. AND ≪ FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Continuing with the success of the Varsity team, the JV and Freshman football teams also did well this year. The JV Colts had a 4-2 record. Coach Simon feels that the whole team did a great job this year and that they put forth a great effort. The Freshman Colts, coached by Mr. Petrucci had a record of 3-2-1. These two teams gave the underclassmen the experience they need to someday make the varsity team.

SOCCER

Although they were off to a good start winning four of the first five games, CV's soccer season ended with a 4-12-2 record, a few injuries, and the loss of a few good players. A good point in the season is the growing interest in the sport and as senior Aaron Shipley stated, "Char Valley has two great coaches in Mr. Gazda and Mr. Stimmel."

A new member to the team was foreign exchange student Dan Kompel, senior. When asked to comment on the difference between soccer in the US and Germany he stated, "The game is much larger and more undisciplined than in Germany." He has played soccer since he was a young child but never played on a soccer team or club, so CV was a new experience for him.

Hopefully the CV soccer spirit and talent will continue to grow in the upcoming year.

BOYS GOLF

The Boys Golf Team ended the 1985 season with 5 wins and 6 losses. The young team fought valiantly this year with some success and shows much promise for the 1986 season. The starting team was composed of two seniors, Tim Foley and Randy Fisher, two sophomores, Dennis Kopko and Buddy Brennan, and one freshman, Brian Colbert. Junior Rick Grendys will join the starting lineup next year as a letterman. Coach Peta is looking forward to a winning season in 1986. Team captain Tim Foley, a three year member, felt that the team is showing great potential and should win state championship in two years.

All in all, with young players gaining experience the team should do quite well next year.

GIRLS GOLF

The girls golf team completed the 1985 Season with a 1-7 record. The team's captain was senior Lynne Chadwick. One of the leading players was Cindy Torre who moved from fifth player to the number two spot. Coach Trombetta commented that the team this year scored the most points in a season since he has coached. He also added, "The girls were great, their attitude was outstanding. We need more girls like this next year to carry on the tradition."

≪GIRLS TENNIS≫

The girls tennis team performed admirably during the 1985 season. The extra effort reflected in their scores. Coach Diana Chioda worked with everyone and strengthend the team regardless of a 0 and 10 record. Captain Eugenia Vitori, a three year member, was quoted as saying that, "Coaching this year was more consistent than last year and hopefully that will pay off with a more successful season next year as far as wins are concerned." With hard work, practice, dedication, and a great attitude, the girls tennis team will be much stronger next year.

CROSS COUNTRY

"The cross country team did very well. They worked hard and everybody got along and had a good time," stated senior Katie Collins. Katie, a one-year member, qualified for W.P.I.A.L. Championships where she did very well. The girls had an outstanding record of seven wins and one loss, while the boys possessed a record of three and five. Coach Schultz commented, "The entire team much improved from the past year. The Cross Country runners had a better quality and determination. The girls' team was the best in years. I am very much looking forward to the return of many talented athletes."

VOLLEY BALL

Rookies. That is what CV's volleyball team had to contend with this year. According to Coach Sally Reeder, "This year was a building year, developing new plays and strategies". Co-Captain Karen Paul, sophomore seemed to agree and stated that although they really need to practice, she thinks they can be "one of the best teams ever." Their 1-13 record shows a lack of experience, but with 5 starters returning in 86-87, Coach Reeder believes that this will give them a head start over other teams. The team's captain and MVP was Tina McDermott, and an honorable mention went to Renee Caporalli, senior starter, as most improved player.

The CV Icers had a great season in the 1985-86 school year. Coach Ed Schultz led them to an outstanding record of 14-5-1. The secret to their success, according to Senior Pat Thompson, is that "Everyone gets along well, and works well as a team." Another reason for their success is the extraordinary talent of the team shown by such members as captain Tim Tracy, goalie Roy Bussard, Tim Foley, Craig Stevenson, and Ric Niedt. Although the team suffered a few injuries, they went on to win the State Playoffs.

≫ BOYS ≪ SWIMMING

Being composed mostly of 9th and 10th graders, the boys swim team was different from most teams Coach Hugh Robinson has trained. But that didn't stop C.V. from finishing 6th in their section with a record of 2-11.

According to Sophomore Gary Howell, "The Swim Team this year was not as successful as it was last year, but they did send Craig Kushner to the W.P.I.A.L.S." Craig, a sophomore, finished 10th in his event and missed states by two places. As for the rest of the team, they worked hard and finished strong. The team captains were seniors Mike Sally and Doug Willard. When asked to comment on the most memorable event of the boys swimming season, Doug stated that if he had to pick the event it would be "throwing a teammember out in the hall without any clothes on."

⩾ GIRLS ⩽ SWIMMING

The 1985-86 girls swimming team faced a challenging season of competition in the toughest section in the state. In spite of a lack of depth, the swimmers learned the value of hardwork and determination through both defeat and victory. This year's captains were Barb Murphy and Becky Oyler. "Hopefully, when the team is moved to a more appropriate section next year, its success will become more apparent and more students will be inspired to join," Becky commented. Nevertheless, the swim team provides a valuable opportunity for students to experience competition, to learn the value of goal setting, team work, and dedication, and to form lasting friendships.

≫ BOYS ≪ BASKETBALL

The boys basketball team should be complimented for their season this year considering the set backs they had. The first set back was the absence of coach Greer the beginning of the season. Another obstacle was the suspension of Senior Jon Hurey due to a foul.

The team felt they had much talent and potential. When asked about the season Seniors Jon Hurey and Ed Spoharski agreed, "The whole team was great friends and enjoyed the games they played together."

With only two starters returning, the Colts will have an uphill battle next year.

➢ GIRLS ➣ BASKETBALL

The girls basketball team was a much improved team from last year. They suffered a few setbacks that hurt them but they kept on working and never gave up. That's what made this year's team so great. Valerie Andrejasik added, "I like my teammates because I feel everybody puts forth their best effort and that's what this year's team was all about." The whole team felt that their most memorable event of the season was when Katie Collins became the 2nd leading scorer in this area. Even though this is Katie's last year, the girls remaining on the team are looking forward to a new and successful season next year.

WRESTLING

With all the publicity of pro wrestling in 1985-1986 there has been a growing interest in wrestling here at C.V. Although the boys wrestling team had a 3-15 record at the end of the season, the boys worked hard. Their record did not show the capability this team really had and with enough interest and hard work next year; there could be many C.V. champions walking the halls. The coach this year was Ken Smith with Gary Hall assisting. The team members agreed that the work was extremely hard, but in the end the satisfaction of finishing the year was great.

With the help of MVP's Jon Hurey and Gary Miller, CV had a great baseball season. Coached by Mr. George Anderson, the team ended the year with a 12-7 record. This year's captains were Jon Hurey, Mark Tinney, and Gary Ritson. Senior pitcher Gary Miller established some new records which included 70 strike outs, 59⅓ innings pitched, and 7 wins. Miller, along with Hurey and Ritson, made the all-section team.

Junior Ron Dziezgowski summed up the season. "The year started off with great expectations from each member especially after the first 11 wins of the year. But as the games progressed so did losses and we soon found ourselves out of the playoffs. We did accomplish some of our own achievements to make the year worthwhile."

≫ BOY'S ≪ TENNIS

CV's 1986 boy's tennis team had a good year. With the help of first year coach, Donna Chiodo, they ended the season with a 6-8 record. Coach Chiodo feels that "it was a team effort that made this year a success." The team worked hard, kept a good attitude and put forth their best effort in every match they played. Coach Chiodo also added that "for once — in a long time — I feel that other teams respected CV's tennis team." This year's team did better than any CV team in the last ten years. They came in fourth out of six teams in their conference.

TRACK

This year's girls track team finished fourth in its division, with Lisa Grosso and Karen Adams as this year's co-captains. Both athletes excelled this year by setting new records. In girls track Lisa Grosso was voted Most Valuable Player and was joined by Karen Adams, Barb Murphy and Joy Morganto in setting a new school record in the 3200 m. relay at the WPIAL championships. Karen Adams was the Most Valuable Player for girls field and set a school record at the WPIAL qualifiers in long jump. Marla Willard also set a new record in the javelin. Next year the girls track team hopes to have another record-breaking season.

When asked about next year's prospects, Coach Schultz indicated that John Mekonis, Evan Shebatka, Lenny Adair, and Jeff Strauss were athletes to look for. With the return of these four members, next year promises to be a strong one.

★ STATE CHAMPS ★

For the first time in the history of CV hockey, the Icers captured the AA State Championship title beating the Archbishop Wood Vikings 7-2. After beating Meadville in the State Semifinals on March 27, the Colts met with the Vikings at Mt. Lebanon Ice Arena on April 12. Senior Tim Tracy gained the MVP title with 5 goals with Ric Niedt and Brad Holland scoring the other two. The Colts were fortunate to have both Tracy, who suffered a broken wrist, and teammate Craig Stevenson, who suffered a concussion, back into action for their final game of the season. Dear Diary,

Today had to be one of the strangest and most exciting days of my life. It all started when my friends and I were hanging around McDonald's doing absolutely nothing when this strange man, who called himself Herb, came up to us at our booth and gave all of us, Jim, Suzy, Bob, and me that is, free admission passes to Goofy Golf Land. He said, "The King lives," and left in an awful rush as if he didn't want anyone to see him. Well, we laughed and talked about what he said and thought it had something to do with Elvis. We had nothing better to do so we decided to go to Goofy Golf Land to play a game of miniature golf and forget about this guy.

When we got to the first hole at Goofy Golf and we knew something strange was going on because all of the obstacles on the course were in the shape of some sort of fast food. Our putters looked like bent french fries and our scorecard was shaped like a humburger bun. Everything around us looked like fast food. Well, we figured out that this was more than a golf game but more like a riddle that had to be solved with a prize at the end. We played a round of golf and tried to pick up a clue at each hole. The 3rd hole had a straight path to hit the ball, but if you hit it to the right, underneath some golden arches, you went straight into the water. To the left was a direct path to the hole. When you hit it in the hole a sign popped up saying, "What a WHOPPER of a shot!" Then there were a few more clues at each other hole, but the last hole is what tipped us off. When I hit a hole in one, another sign popped up saying "Aren't you hungry for REGRUB GNIK after Goofy Golf?" Then it hit me, Burger King the prize must be there! I went to Burger King found "Herb" there waiting for me with a $1,000 check in his hand with my name on it. He said to me, "Use it towards the college of your choice!"

I was so excited! I have never won anything in my life! I would like to add that I am going to listen to Herb's advice, after I buy my new car! I will definitely remember this day for the rest of my life, and if I ever have to choose between McDonald's and Burger King, I will definitely pick Burger King! Well, that's all for now.

Back to School

The first dance of the 85-86 school year was the Welcome Back Dance! Student council sponsored the dance on September 7, 1985. The money from the dance was used for the prom and to help pay for assemblies. The Welcome Back Dance was a big success because everyone was excited to go, especially the freshmen. After all, it was the first dance of the year. There was a d.j. there and everyone wore what he or she wanted. Junior John Kyle loved the dance, "I thought the dance was great and we all had a blast." Sophomore Bernadett Hoffman commented, "The dance was a lot of fun. I'll never forget it because it was my first dance of the year." Everyone is looking forward to next year's dance but with mixed emotions.

DANCE

Girls, It's Your Turn

The Char-Val Cheerleaders sponsored the Sadie-Hawkins dance on November 16, 1985. The setting was country and western and as usual the guys and girls wore their cowboy hats and jeans. Most couples got matching flannel shirts. A marriage booth was set up for the couples who wanted a "trial run." The Sadies is a favorite for everyone, especially for the guys because finally they don't have to pay. And it is exciting for the girls to have the chance to ask a guy out.

Beach Dance . . .

The Char Val newspaper staff sponsored the Beach Dance on January 18, 1986. The money raised was used to lower the cost of the Char Valiant. The temperature might have been freezing, but there was an abundance of heat in the dance. Everyone had "early spring fever" and came to the dance dressed in jams, Hawaiian shirts, and sunglasses. People on the road must have thought Char-Val students were crazy. But it was fun pretending there was sun while everyone else was in hats and big heavy coats. The outsider saw us with shorts on shivering in our driveways waiting for a ride from some friends and walking in the cold freezing weather up the icy hill to the dance in jams and sunglasses.

Freaks Come Out at Night

This year's Halloween dance was held on Saturday October 26, 1985, and was sponsored by the band. The night was cold and dreary but everyone came dressed as anything from monsters to mice. Every Halloween the students choose the best costume. This year's award went to the Mob Gang. The Halloween dance is a favorite at C.V.; students get to dress as wild and crazy as they want. There are no restrictions.

Joanie Fredland and the mob exclaimed, "We were the best!" even though they ran over Mark Casper with Joanie in the wheelchair. Overall the dance was a big success and students are looking forward to the next one. For the Seniors this Halloween dance will be one they won't forget.

Deck the Halls

The 1985 Christmas Dance was held on December 7, 1985 1985 and was sponsored by the Student Council. This year's dance was different than the past dances because the traditional "couples" dance was a stage. The dress was casual.

Another tradition of the dance is the announcement of the Snow King. This honor went to Senior Matt Dellana. This court consisted of Tim Foley, Chris Provenzano, Eric Vaccarello, and Dan Zelch. Although he didn't think he would win, Matt was very happy with his title.

Old Time Rock-n-Roll

The 50's dance was held on April 19, 1986. The dance was a big hit. Students wore anything from poodle skirts and bobby socks to tee-shirts with rolled up sleeves, saddle shoes and penny loafers. The 50's dance was sponsored by journalism to help lower the cost of the "Char Valiant," the school newspaper. Doug Willard reflected the spirit of the event by commenting, "It was a blast, totally awesome." Rob Berner summed things up with, "The 50's all the way." The students had a great time and hope next year there will be another 50's dance like this year's.

Dancers Showcase Talents

Performing Arts classes presented "Showcase" on May 9, 1986. The stage band performed for the first 10 minutes and was directed by Mr. Keil. The dance troop, sub troop, dance classes, and acting classes performed. The dance show was directed by Renee Keil with assistance from Kim Johnson who choreographed "Bad Boys," and Amy Ciminel who choreographed "What Have You Done For Me Lately."

California Fever

This year the CV Marching Unit traveled to San Diego, California, for marching unit competition. The trip was from April 23-28. The marching unit brought back many trophies from field competition to individual competitions. Junior Rachel Kettler commented, "I'm still surfing in my mind." The band raised money by selling hoagies, candy, and fruit baskets. Juniors Kim Johnson and Brenda Close asked, "When are we going back!"

You're a Good Man Charlie Brown

On the evenings of May 23-24 the Drama Club, under the direction of Mr. Larry Wineland presented "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown." Junior Jordan Shulman played the title role. Junior Mike Schiavi was the blanket-toting Linus; junior Julie Platt took the role of doctor-centerfielder Lucy, and sophomores Jeremy Mayernik and Marie Walker played Schroeder and Snoopy, respectively. Senior Joan Stasiowski played the flirtatious Patti. The play set to music such Peanuts' antics as The Baseball Game and Red Baron. The cast, as usual, gave excellent performances.

To err is human; to catch those errors on film is simply divine. Never let it be said that our school lacks a sense of humor. Bloopers and practical jokes are as much a part of C.V. as any school. And as we all know, the ability to laugh at oneself is a sign of health. So, in the interest of health, we present some bloopers and practical jokes from the year.

Seniors and Juniors celebrated their prom on May 15, 1986. This year's theme, "Sidewalk Cafe," was colorfully illustrated in the cafeteria, part one of three part event. Part two was a two and one hour dance cruise on the party Liner. Part three proved to be a first. Chauncey's held its first ever post prom which proved to be a big success. Decorations and arrangements were made by student council, under the sponsorship of Mr. Monning. Through their efforts, the prom was a complete success.

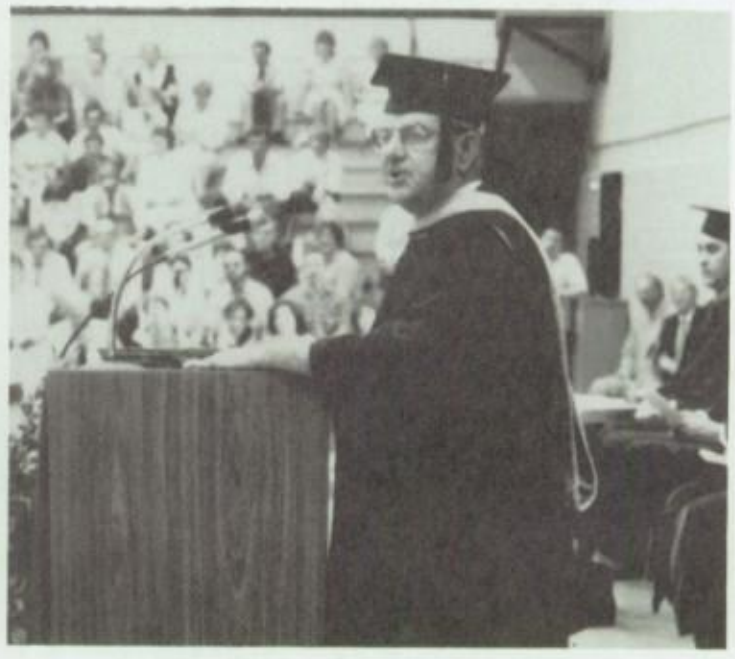
Commencement 1986 was celebrated on Sunday, June 8. Warm temperature and a sunny sky greeted the twenty-sixth graduating class.

Senior speakers included Nick DeIuliis, Becky Oyler, Jeff Wrona, and Lynn Chadwick. The theme of their speeches was looking to the future. Mr. Buzzatto acknowledged those grads who achieved a 4.0 quality point average over four years. In his remarks to the graduating class, Dr. Boggio gave a four-point formula for happiness. Reverend Zygmunt Szanicki gave the invocation and benediction, and the senior choir sang "Old Irish Blessing."

The class joined hands in singing their Alma Mater. That spirit of unity continued outside of the gym as grads hugged one another and bid farewell as they looked to the future.



On April 18, 1986, the orchestra performed its annual Spring Concert. It consisted of many different varities of music. This year will be Mr. Martucci's last year with the C. V. orchestra. Mr. Martucci was the conductor for many many years and this year he will be retiring. The students gave him a warm good-bye. The concert was decorated with "we'll miss you" signs and ballons to say good-bye and express students' feelings. Diane Rachuba replied, "We'll miss him very much." For his retirement the orchestra gave him a gift certificate for Heinz Hall for any performance.

N.H.S. Night

On Tuesday April 22, 1986, The C.V. Chapter of the National Honor Society held its spring inductions of juniors and seniors. President, Stephanie Litvak, presided over the ceremony. The sponsor was Mr. John Dlugos. The four virtues of the society were explained by the senior speakers: LouAnn Wengryn, scholarship, Gina Vitale, leadership, Jeff Wrona, service, and Becky Oyler, character. Society members Kristen Zappa and Jodi Previtt were pinners and Traci McCartney, Lisa Marra, and Susan Leitholf read the names of the inductees. The inductees were chosen not only on their academic record but also on their ability to exhibit these virtues. The members raised funds for the ceremony through candy and flower sales. Principal Nicholas Novelli ended the ceremony with a speech honoring the new members.

Seniors Say Goodbye

On Senior Night, the senior Majorette, Drill Team and Band members had their last night to ever perform on their home field. As the crowd applauded for their great year, Seniors released colorful balloons and received trophies while standing with proud parents during halftime. Senior Majorette Captain Tammy Turney reflected, "I'll never forget my three years of being a majorette. I'm going to miss the games." Senior Drill Team Captain Amy Ceminal mused, "I'll miss performing on our home field the most." Overall every senior reflected a certain sadness as they held hands and sang their Alma Malter for the last time as a marching unit.

The Band presented their annual spring concert on April 4, 1986. The theme was Reflections. The music was a mixture of American Patriotic, Contemporary and Latin American Among the soloists were seniors Dave Koeing and Rob Willhite on alto sax, Doug Dourlain on trumpet and Peggy Herman on French Horn. Sophomore Jack Marsh soloed on the trumpet. Members who received honors during the year were recognized. As usual, Mr. Keil and the band gave a outstanding performance.

Tom Sawyer

On the nights of November 21-23, the Drama Club under the direction of Mr. Larry Wineland and student director Tim Komen presented "Tom Sawyer," an American Legend with Music! As usual Tom (Larry Bridge) and Huck (Dave Schnieder) get into a heap of trouble. Tom picks a fight with Jeff Thacther (Steve Zeiden). After Mrs. Thacther (Amy Condit) breaks up the fight Tom meets Becky (Mary Alice Corton). One day after school Tom convinces her to be "engaged" to him. They promise to choose each other for all time. But Tom falls under a spell from Amy Lawerance (Marie Walker). Becky finds out about it and Tom is in hot water. Meanwhile, one night in the graveyard while trying to get rid of Tom's warts he and Huck watch as Injun Joe (Ravin Agrawala) murders Doc Robinson (Jim Shadish). Then they see injun Joe frame Muff Porter (Mike Astfalk) for his crime. After being threatened by Injun Joe to be silent, Tom and Huck run away. Meanwhile Muff is hauled away by the constable (Rob Berner). They return in time to attend their own funeral. After clearing Muff of the murder, they go with Becky to look for the treasure buried the night of the murder by Injun Joe. They run into Injun Joe who escaped from the constable. They save Becky from the clutches of Joe, who falls into an old mine shaft. After a little searching the three find the treasure Injun Joe had buried. The towns folks come out to see the riches Tom and Huck and Becky have found. Judge Thacther (Jeremy Mayernik) informs them that under law the treasure is theirs. After all the adventure they've had, they still would rather be catching catfish.

The dramatic production of "The Wiz" was presented March 19-20-21-22, 1986. The production ran for four nights instead of the customary three nights, allowing one night just for family. "The Wiz" is the black version of "The Wizard of Oz." The cast and dancers worked for four months to put on this production. The set was constructed by Mrs. Rider and Brian Perri with help from many art students. Mrs. Keil was the producer, director, and sponsor of the play.

CV Hits the Slopes

The ski trip was held on February 14-17. It was sponsored by the CV Ski Club, and the members sold M&M's and candybars to help pay for the trip. The ski club spent three days at the snow-covered mountains of Vermont. Most of the skiers wore ski jackets and bibs to keep the frigid, skin-biting winter air out. Other skiers just bundled up to keep warm. The bus left on Friday evening at 5:30 and returned Monday morning at 7:00 which accounted for more than a few skiers missing school that day. Overall the trip was a success, and students returned a bit spoiled from the great skiing Vermont had to offer. Jason Ross commented, "It was a lot of fun and the skiing was great!"

Hey folks! Have I got a deal for you! How would you like to own this luxurious institute of education all to yourself? At a low-low price you can get special features like these:

Let your friends know what you feel with your computerized outdoor sign! A beautiful high-tech digital display lets you tell everyone on I-79 the time and temperature with a cheerful message.

Next you get the main buildings with their features. The Academic Pod houses the heart of the complex with well-furnished offices circled by numerous spacious classrooms. The middle level contains a food lab and the upper level is the site for the essential chemistry, biology, and physics labs. You also become the proud owner of many Commodore 64 and TRS-80 personal computers for your "hacking" pleasure. It's a great place to start.

In the other building, the Library Pod, the classrooms and offices bound a large attractive library building holding all the books you need for your reading and researching enjoyment. The whole building has a certain peaceful serenity. Lose yourself in luxury in this building.

These two pods are joined conveniently by a juncture known as the "ramps". These "ramps" are great for hanging out and socializing with friends.

Extra features include a cafeteria and workshop combo which neighbors the pool and gymnasium complex. After a hard day's work in the various shops — woodwork, metal, photography, and drawing — you can sit down at your leisure in the dining hall which, at night, can be converted into a disco. Hire your favorite DJ and dance the night away.

Want to get in shape? It's easy if you have your own olympic sized pool complete with diving boards, island, and starting boards. Hold your own WPIAL championship! Swim year round in heated comfort and become at ease with the water. For the serious athlete, there are features such as a complete weight room, whirlpool, and batting cages. If you're looking for something a little more physical, try out any one of the three gyms fully equipped with basketball courts and bleachers which expand into an indoor, miniature stadium. Imagine being able to hold your own pep rallies! We'll even let you have our very own cheerleaders and majorettes at no extra charge!

Finally, watch the sun set while walking on your own 400m 6-lane track or playing tennis on one of the three standard sized courts. There's even a football field for those relaxing games of flag football.

Sound too good to be true? Just think, all this and more for a low-low price. Call for free information in the mail — NO OBLIGATION! Just call 555-CVHS and ask our friendly operators about a free bonus if you call now. They are eager to answer any questions you may have on this offer. But you have to call now? now! This offer is a limited one. Pick up a phone and give us a call!!!

As we spent one of our three snow days at home, we were all amazed at the tragedy that flooded our TV sets. The spaceshuttle Challenger blew up in mid air killing all seven astronauts including the first "space teacher," Christine McAuliffe. President Reagan postponed his state of the union address to give his condolences and to help bring the nation together after this great tragedy. Here at CV we flew the flag at half mast for little over a week.

Overseas fighting was steady as the U.S. and Libya were exchanging bullets and bombs. Colonel Quadafy was upset because of U.S. Naval manuevers off the coast of Libya. Quadafy retaliated by chasing the planes and ships further back into the sea. President Reagan then gave permission to bomb Libya. Hundreds of lives were lost as a result of the U.S. counter-terrorist raids.

In America, millions of people came together on May 25 when Hands Across America collected over 10 million dollars for the starving and homeless of America. This project proved to be the most successful of its kind.

IT'S TIME TO JAM

Here at CV students were entertained by the Nexus Slide Show held on April 16. Put together by Jodi Previtt, Vince Kolo, and Joanie Fredland the presentation helped to promote sales for the yearbook.

In May the student body responded to the unseasonably warm weather by wearing shorts to school. To the dismay of the administration Wednesday, May 14, was designated as Shorts Day. Jams and OP's proved to be the favorites among students but not the administration.

Of course the end of the year meant prom and graduation. The Prom was held on May 15, and the afterprom was held at Chauncy's in Station Square. Commencements were held on Sunday, June 8 in the gymnasium.

From Jams to a State Hockey Title to a Scavenger Hunt, the Class of '86 exhibited a broad spectrum of uniqueness for itself!

Thanks to some special people:

George Mrvos — for continued help with Community College coffee sales

Mr. Buzzatto — for helping to facilitate various Nexus projects throughout the year

Student Council — for the slide show funding

School Board, Advertisers, and Patrons — for the financial support

Nexus Staff — for your creativity, hard work, and occasionally needed craziness

Nexus seniors Dan, Lou Ann, Vince, Susie, Lisa, Wendy, Ashley, Jodi, Jon, Pam, Carolyn, and Joannie (the Chief) — we'll miss you guys!

Now it's your turn! Here's a special space to say thanks to your special person:

WE MADE EACH OTHER STRONG

My friend, I do not wish for you to go,
But life will not wait for us, I know.
Don't look back and see the tears streaking down my face.
In my heart you'll never be replaced.
Hold tight to today and it will take you to tomorrow.
Hold your head high and you will see that the sorrow
Will soon fade with a dream that is yet to be.
We're going to be the best of all, Just you wait and see!
Take me with yo when you go. I'll stay forever in your heart.
That way we'll never have to say we lost a part of ourselves.
You're just the part of me I can't let go,
And I thank God you are a friend I'll always know.
So thank you for growing up with me, my friend.
Parting now, we'll reach for the stars and see it's not an end,
But the beginning of a life we've dremt of for so long.
Not it's time to show the world — we've made each other strong!
